

Let's study Japanese

Name: Wang Weizheng

Country: China

Lab: Information Security Lab

Supervisor: Su Chunhua

JLPT: N2

-You can make more Japanese friends, they will be glad if you can talk with them in Japanese directly.

-After graduation, if you attempt to find a ideal job in Japan, most of the companies have the requirements for Japanese ability.

How to learn Japanese ?

-Firstly, our university provides free Japanese lessons for us, simultaneously, there are many levels for learners. You can choose one is appropriate for you.

-Secondly, you should learn Japanese initiatively, make use of every chance to accept new knowledge, such as words in fascias, food, drinks and so on.

-Finally, try to join more activities in university or out of university, let yourself be immersed in Japanese environment as much as possible.

Who am I ?

My name is Wang Weizheng, I come from China. I have been studying at the University of Aizu for 4 months since I was a graduate student.

Why learn Japanese ?

- Japanese is very significant for us, because we are living in Japan now. If we don't learn Japanese, maybe it will bring much inconvenience to our daily life.